

G-ENTRY

A place of late-night gaming, construction, and general tomfoolery

G and H Entry people at "Fancy Friday" at IHOP.

Welcome to G-entry! We have 40 residents, colloquially "gents". Some of our activities include:

- Staying up all night
- Smesh (Super Smash Bros. Melee)
- Cooking and baking
- Suiting up
- Watching absurd YouTube videos
- SCIENCE!
- Hacking. See:
- Building things
- Unbuilding things (often rapidly)
- Speaking Spanish
- Speaking English
- Hanging out with H-Entry

-Participating in our weekly polls! We ask all the tough questions, like:

- Is a hotdog a sandwich?
- How do you rinse your mouth after brushing your teeth?
- How many votes will this poll have?

Of course, our interests aren't limited to the above; G Entry also welcomes folks who may enjoy doing the above but prefer a quiet and relaxing living environment. So whether you're a studious engineer or a nocturnal coder, there's a place for you. Swing by to chat- no matter the time (seriously, ANY TIME), and doors will be open to you.

Fast Facts: 4 floors. 5 suites. 40 singles. Use the stairs or be square. Two single-sex suites, one for guys (G41) and one for gals (G31). One 60-inch television.
